Steven,

I received an email from the automated journal system that I have to get the revised draft in shape by the tenth. I have been under much stress and fatigue the past few weeks. It's an important article to me. If I submit later, can you guarantee that it still gets considered?

Maxie

Steven,

Thank you. Very much appreciated.

I have actually had to go over to the ER in Atlanta this week for problems besides the pandemic. Things are so bad that there is basically only one bed for non covid emergencies at Emory. Let's all pray that people get better.

I will try to work on the revision when I am feeling better. Good to be healthy enough to check email right now.

Maxie
